

Guidelines for Pets & Their Humans

Pets must be leashed, under the control of their owner at all times, and may not be left unattended at any time.

Pets must be microchipped, immunized, and comply with all state and local regulations.

Pet owners are responsible for making sure their pets remain safely out of the way and do not present a hazard to employees, other customers, or other pets.

Pet owners are responsible for monitoring their pet's behavior and mood and removing any pet that might be over-excited, aggressive, or anxious.

Pet owners are responsible for monitoring their pet's needs and ensuring accidents do not happen. Any accidents that do occur must be reported and cleaned up immediately.

As needed, individual businesses may establish limits for the number of pets allowed on the premises at a time.

Businesses have the right to ask a pet owner to remove their pet from the premises at any time.

Pet owners are legally responsible for the behavior of their pet.

Damaged or broken merchandise that is caused by a pet must be paid for by the owner unless stated otherwise by the business owner.

Pet owners agree to indemnify and hold harmless the business and its owners against any liabilities that may arise from the pet being on the premises by bringing a pet onto the premises.
